

Other Firsts Accomplished by These Attorneys:

Mrs. "Peggy" Edward Franklin White: Reporter for Indiana Supreme and Appellate courts, January 1925.

Eleanor P. Barker: Admitted to practice before federal courts by July 1918.

Ella M. Groninger: Partner in an Indianapolis law firm, March 1915

Elizabeth Mason & Adele Storck: Executive committee of the National Association of Women Lawyers, 1924 - 1926

Jessie Levy: State Law Librarian, January 1930.

Further Reading:

Cynthia Grant Bowman, "Women in the Legal Profession from the 1920s to the 1970s: What Can We Learn from Their Experience About Law and Social Change?" (Cornell Law Faculty Publications, 2009), accessed Cornell University Law Library.

"Early Woman Lawyer Dies," The Indianapolis News, May 17, 1956, 24, accessed Newspapers.com.

"Indiana's First Jury of Women," The Indianapolis News, August 28, 1920, 7, accessed Newspapers.com.

"Mary Bostwick Is First Woman to Be Called for Indiana Jury," The Indianapolis Star, August 28, 1920, 1, accessed Newspapers.com.

Dr. Anita Morgan, "We Must Be Fearless: The Woman Suffrage Movement in Indiana" (Indianapolis: Indiana Historical Bureau, 2020).

"NAWL History," National Association of Women Lawyers History, accessed <https://www.nawl.org/p/cm/ld/fid=20>